

ABIM Request for New Test Accommodations for Neurocognitive Disabilities

Acquired neurocognitive impairments are those caused by injury (e.g., traumatic brain injury/concussion, penetrating heard wound, blast injury) or disease process (e.g., stroke, bacterial meningitis).

Use this form if you have not been previously granted accommodations for an ABIM exam.

Note: Candidates must register for the exam prior to requesting accommodations.

Section A: Personal Information

Please complete the following information:

First name: _____

Last name: _____

ABIM ID number: _____

Current phone number: _____

Current email address: _____

Section B: Exam Information

Title of exam (Internal Medicine or subspecialty) you are currently registered for:

Check the corresponding box to indicate which exam type you are currently registered for:

Initial Certification

Maintenance of Certification (MOC)

Knowledge Check-In (KCI)

Section C: Accommodations Requested

Please list and describe all accommodations you are requesting:

See Forms of accommodations for common accommodations that have been requested and, if appropriate, granted by ABIM in the past

Section D:
Personal
Statement:

Please describe the following:

What is the nature of your impairment?

When it was first identified or diagnosed?

When it was last evaluated and/or treated and the identity of the professional who evaluated and/or treated the condition?

How is your impairment accommodated in your daily life?

Section E: Confirmation Please check boxes below to verify you have:

Registered for your exam

Completed the Personal Information section of this form

Completed the Exam section of this form

Attached a signed Verification and Release form

Attached a professional report or letter from your treating physician confirming the presence, nature and extent of your impairment and the need for specific accommodation

Attached a comprehensive neuropsychological evaluation

Attached objective evidence of your condition. i.e.: MRI, X-Ray, testing results

Copies of approval letters for accommodations received for the stated impairment in the course of taking other tests or examinations, including a description of the accommodation and the documentation submitted with that request

Accommodation requests and supporting documentation must be submitted by the registration deadline to: accommodations@abim.org.

Additional details regarding accommodations and submission deadlines are available ABIM's on website in the Certification section and MOC section